FEEDBACK

"It had a profound effect on my class; they were in awe of his recovery and how he came to forgive the person who did this to him. They want to do something in the school to help support brain injury survivors" - Teacher from Belton All Saints Church of England Primary School

"Such an inspiring talk that really moved me. You really balanced vulnerability and emotions with important messages. My form group found your story inspiring and said it would stick with them. It encouraged us to reflect on resilience and emotional intelligence" - Student from St Mary's College

"Paul's talk was both informative and heartwarming. We all need to be a bit uncomfortable to grow and challenge ourselves. Since the talk, I've referenced Paul with students—not just about the charity, but about showing up, trying your best and the eventual rewards." - Tutor from University Centre Grimsby

"Absolutely incredible - I'm blown away. Went from nearly crying at times, to laughing! So inspirational and personable. I am so moved. Probably the best talk I've listened to. Learnt so much!" - Clinical Psychology student from the University of Hull
